REPUBLICAN PRIMARY RESULTS CONFUSING

CONVENTION PROSPECTS ARE VERY UNCERTAIN, AS A RESULT OF MIXED RESULT—COL. SAM PARKER SPRUNG FOR MAYOR—SOME HUMOROUS RESULTS OF SOME OF THE PRECINCT GOOD GOVERNMENT CONTESTS.

The Republicans are holding political "post mortems" today, and it appears that the party has never before gone into convention with prospects so mixed. It is understood in a somewhat general way that Saturday's results mean as to platform, and the nomination of Kuhio for delegate to Congress is not in doubt. But beyond that, the situation is much confused. The convention meets next Friday.

Col. Sam Parker's name has been sprung by some Republicans for the office of mayor of Honolulu. The colonel isn't in the fight and is said to have absolutely declined to go in, and the issue lies at present between John Lane and Charles Hustace, Jr.

Andrew Cox is practically sure of running for sheriff, though Captain Robert Parker has suddenly discovered that he is in the fight for the nomination. Incidentally Parker's friends are having some fun with the opponents of Achi. Achi's opponents were supposed to be trying to down him for the sake of good government and pure politics. They down him, all right, and put in one George Kaea, convicted gambler who doesn't mind convictions but plays right on. Even Achi sees the joke in this case. Achi's friends say that Democrats voted to the number of thirty or forty.

Achi has withdrawn from his canvass for the Republican nomination for the short term in the Senate, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Frank Harvey, but says he is still a good Republican, doesn't mind his defeat and will stay with the game.

Von Damm, leader of the Manoa insurgents, is being sprung as a candidate for the House from the Fourth. It is not at all unlikely that he will be nominated, if he expresses himself as willing to run.

The stories being told by some of the losers indicate that the bitter was bitten in more than one case. The devil was fought with fire by more than one purist who thought he knew who the devil was, and the convention will not find it easy to harmonize factions.

One of Achi's friends explained this morning that he was beaten by Democratic votes being run in the Republican precinct. The indignant criticism of this frightful fraud was spotted by the remark that Achi thought the Democrats were really voting for him and so didn't protest.

Charley Clark, for years a "smoothy" in politics, also says he was double-crossed. Charley says that he discovered late on Saturday that the printed ballots had his name out of order. Somebody or other who was out for good government of a different stamp from Charley's had changed his number on the ballot at the last moment, and Charley's weeks of work telling voters what number to vote for on the ballot went for the other side. Charley says it's all right—he didn't find it out in time on Saturday.

The result is conceded to indicate very strongly the nomination of John W. Cathcart for another term as county attorney. Wherever Cathcart was anything of an issue he won, and he is said to have the strong support of the big Fourth district precincts which are likely to swing the influence. The fourth and fifth, with nineteen votes each, will, it is said, be found on his side. Out in the Fifth district he does not appear to have lost any strength.

Achi went down in defeat in his fight against him. Achi lost the big water front vote which has stuck to him before, and he is regarded as for the time at least, "down and out." Kaea's victory adds to the support of Captain Robert Parker as candidate for sheriff.

Parker this morning denied that he had any deal with Kaea, whose unsavory reputation as a gambler caused the party to force him off the representative ticket, when The Star called attention to the matter two years ago. "If Kaea and his ticket wanted to support me, all right," said Parker. "I wasn't going to stop them. But there is no agreement between them and me."

The Advertiser was anxious to see Achi beaten in that precinct. As soon as it is done, the paper turns on me and others who beat him, and seems to think I am worse than Achi. What does it want anyway?"

The Parker campaign, however, is not regarded very seriously by the Republican leaders. The indications are very strong that Andrew Cox will land the Republican nomination for sheriff.

The big victory of Charles Hustace, Jr., in his precinct put him in stronger condition to fight for the nomination for mayor. Jack Lucas was jolted all out of shape. Though he had retired from the contest for mayor, he was understood to be opposing Hustace, and this was probably responsible.

KEPOIKAI IS LOSER ON MAUI

(Wireless to The Star.)

WAILUKU, September 5.—The Republican primary contests here last Saturday centered very largely on the fight for the nomination for county attorney. D. H. Case was opposed to former circuit judge A. N. Kepoikai. In nearly all the precincts the Case delegates made a clean sweep over Kepoikai, and it now seems certain that Case will be the Republican candidate.

LONDON TIMES' WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT IS IN HONOLULU

Mr. H. Perry Robinson, who has been appointed to act as correspondent at Washington, of "The Times" (London) is at present in Honolulu. Mr. Robinson spent six weeks in the Philippine Islands studying the conditions there, and as the result of his inquiries he has nothing but admiration for the manner in which the administration of the islands is carried out. The officers who are responsible for the work are zealous and clean, and it is a pity, Mr. Robinson considers, that the officials at Washington do not render more assistance. At present the officials at the Capital seem to be disposed to allow matters to run on, apparently unaware of the value of the Philippines to the United States. Judging by the amount of knowledge of these islands that Mr. Robinson gathered he made good use of the time at his disposal, and it is to be hoped that the able articles that he will publish in due course, will be the means of assisting materially the men at the head of affairs in the Philippines.

M'CARTHY TO RUN CAMPAIGN

Col. C. J. McCarthy will be the chairman of the Democratic campaign committee this year, according to present plans, and will also be a candidate for the Senate. The Democrats are running their machine very smoothly, and since the Republican internal party fighting began, they have been claiming everything in sight.

As an indication of the complete smoothness of the Democratic machine's workings, a well known Democrat was yesterday led into a "break" which a Republican quickly took up. The Democrat was commenting on

PRESIDENT STATES POSITION ON CONSERVATION

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

ST. PAUL, September 5.—The national conservation congress opened here today, with President Taft in attendance, and large delegations from all over the Union, including many western governors, on the platform. Taft gave the opening address, which had been eagerly looked forward to as a campaign "keynote" speech for the coming political contest, and it proved to be conciliatory in tone.

President Taft urged that practical common sense be applied to the great problem of conservation, indicating that he regarded some of the extremists as having carried their agitations too far.

The President said that he intended to submit to Congress a plan for the adjustment and control of the sources of water supply by agreements among the states affected. He proposed that the nation be released of the duty of attempting such control.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 5.—The delegates to the conservation congress have arrived, and the fight as to whether the state or the federal government should control conservation has already begun. The discussion is expected to be a very warm one, one party in the congress being strongly in favor of state control, while the other section favors federal control.

LABOR DAY SEES ROOSEVELT SPEECH AND IMPORTANT DECISION

(Special Cable to The Star.)

FARGO, N. D., September 5.—Colonel Roosevelt today in an address to a workingman's meeting here, said that labor unions are a necessity of modern life under the conditions existing in America. The colonel went on to say that they should guide carefully against unwise leadership which might lead them into unfair and dangerous practices.

RED OAK, Kansas, September 5.—The federal court has refused an injunction to restrain the Federation of Labor and the Bucks Stove Range Company from entering into a closed shop agreement. The Bucks Company is the concern on whose account President Gompers and Secretary Mitchell of the Federation of Labor were sentenced to terms in prison, for violating injunctions when the federation and the stove company were at war. Some months ago the labor organization and the stove company reached an understanding.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 5.—Today was celebrated throughout the United States as Labor Day. In the principal cities of the union there were big workingmen's parades.
